

Prevention saves lives

Bringing breast cancer prevention to your workplace or community

At Breast Cancer UK we want to empower people to take preventative action to reduce their risk of developing breast cancer. One way we do this is by offering bespoke prevention talks, whether online or in person. Our interactive talks are designed to provide you with the key information and guidance on those practical tips for reducing people's risk.

Through our experienced team members, together we can arrange a talk that suits your needs, offering flexibility on time, dates and locations.

We want to highlight that we are a breast cancer prevention charity, and our work focuses on breast cancer prevention. You can find out more about our prevention work here.

What's included in the talks?

- An hour-long talk on breast cancer prevention. (Our talks ordinarily last 45 minutes, with 15 minutes allowed at the end for questions. Shorter or longer talks can be arranged depending on the number of attendees, the type of event, and any specific requirements you have.)
- The latest statistics on breast cancer
- What breast cancer is, and what causes it
- The link between oestrogen and breast cancer
- The environmental and chemical causes of the disease, including the impact of everyday products and plastics
- Information on lifestyle risk factors
- How you can reduce your risk
- Tips on reducing your risk and the risk of those around you
- How to reduce the chemical burden on your body
- Breast Awareness

Who are the talks for?

It is important to us that everyone has access to the information and guidance on how to reduce their risk of developing breast cancer. Therefore, our talks are designed to meet the needs and requirements of a variety of audiences. We will work with you to ensure that the talk is tailored and bespoke to the specific audience group and ensure that together we can provide a valuable experience for those involved.

Whether you are a workplace, school, community group or just some friends, we are happy to provide our prevention talks to you. So please feel free to get in contact and complete the booking form below.

Breast Cancer UK Prevention Talk bookings – Terms and Conditions

These terms and conditions apply to all bookings for face-to-face or online BCUK talks, made by you (the organisation) with Breast Cancer UK (BCUK).

Talk fees

- Face-to-face talk £250 (Minimum of 20 attendees)
- Online talk £50 (Minimum of 6 attendees)
- No fees apply to charities or not-for-profit organisations

Booking process

- Requests for talks should be made using our online form below no later than six weeks before the required date of the talk.
- BCUK will confirm whether the requested date is available within five days of the enquiry. Please be advised that we are unable to attend face-to-face educational talks for less than 20 attendees. If your expected attendance is less than 20, please consider a virtual talk.
- The organisation must confirm the talk booking in writing no later than four weeks before the talk date.
- Once confirmation is received, BCUK will invoice the organisation for £250 (for face-to-face talks) or £50 (for online talks), with payment due no later than seven days after the talk takes place.

Cancellation policy

- Cancellations made within four weeks of the face-to-face talk will incur a fee of £125.
- Cancellations made within two weeks of the talk will incur a fee of £250 (face-to-face) and £50(online).
- These charges help cover any non-refundable costs incurred by the charity before the event.

- In the unlikely event of BCUK needing to cancel or make amendments to the arrangements for your talk, due to any unforeseen circumstances, the charity cannot be held responsible for any associated expenses incurred.
